Norwich Bulletin, Willimantic Office,
23 Church street, Telephone 185.

What Is Going On Tonight.
Knights of Pythias, Nat. Lodge, No. 23, meets in E. O. F. hall.

Dr. J. J. Stiers, of Mansfield, has been appointed Willimantic commissioner by Governor Marcus H. Holcomb to succeed William B. Sprague who died last week. The appointment of Mr. Stiers is for a period extending until the third Wednesday in January, at which time the legislature will appoint a successor to fill out the term of the late Commissioner Sprague, which expires July 1, 1921.

Mr. Stiers was born in Mansfield, May 22, 1864, son of the late Ralph W. and Mary A. Stiers. He received his education in the public schools. May 22, 1889, he married Miss Louise Gardner of Mansfield. Since 1904 Mr. Stiers has been in the lumber and coal business in Willimantic. He is president and treasurer of the Willimantic Lumber and Coal Company, a director of the Willimantic Trust Company and a trustee of the Willimantic Savings Institute. He has been one of Mansfield's selectmen, register of voters and judge of probate. In 1905 and 1911 he was a member of the Connecticut house of representatives. He is also one of the directors of the Connecticut Agricultural College, and the Baptist convention of this state, and a member of the Grange.

Mrs. Elizabeth R. Stiers of New York, a passenger on the State of Maine, expired in this city at 11:45 Friday night. She was a patient in St. Joseph's hospital, suffering with a dislocated shoulder, received when she fell from the upper berth of the steamer at Friday.

The accident occurred between Hartford and this city.

Two freight cars standing in the yard near Phelps' Crossing, were destroyed by fire about midnight Friday. Following an alarm sent to the freight yard in this city an engine was sent to that place and the string of cars attached to the burning cars was uncoupled and pulled to safety. Small boys who had been building fires in the vicinity are thought to be the cause of the blaze.

The parish group meetings of the Women's Auxiliary to the presiding bishopric and council of the Protestant Episcopal diocese of Connecticut are to be held in the New London Archdiocese this week. The first meeting is to be held at St. Paul's church in this city Tuesday, Nov. 23, the second at St. James' church, New London, Friday, Dec. 2. There are to be morning and afternoon sessions in both cities. Mrs. Eleanor G. Acherson of Middletown, diocesan president, and Mrs. D. W. Bishop, archdiocesan manager, are to be in charge of the group meetings. Mrs. Bishop will deliver addresses at both meetings. The program for the group meetings will be the same. The group meeting to be held at St. Paul's church will include all the Episcopal parishes of Willimantic county and a few in Tolland county. The program follows: 9:30 a. m., holy communion; 10:30 a. m., informal discussion of all departments of work of the Women's Auxiliary. The Emory Fund Budget for 1921; 12 m., noonday prayer; 1:15 p. m., lunch; 2:30 p. m., conference served by St. Paul's Auxiliary; 3:15 p. m., missionary service, speaker.

HAIR CARE AS IMPORTANT AS CARE OF COMPLEXION

THIN, DRY, LIFELESS HAIR MEANS NEGLECT—
NOONAN'S HAIR PETROLE BRINGS OUT
NATURAL BEAUTY

Why do so many women neglect their hair? They pay more attention to their complexion? Nothing detracts as much from a woman's appearance as a thin dry hair, no matter how clear her complexion is. There is no excuse today for this neglect as a reliable preparation called Noonan's Hair Petrole is now easily secured at drug and department stores.

Noonan's Hair Petrole contains valuable petroleum and antiseptic which tend to stop dandruff and rejuvenate thin dry hair, leaving that natural lustre that is so desirable. Make it a daily habit to use Noonan's Hair Petrole, and watch your hair appear thicker, softer, and more abundant. It is made from the purest materials, and is sold by the manufacturers, $1 a bottle, 75c from the manufacturers, $1 a bottle, 75c from the manufacturers, $1 a bottle, 75c from the manufacturers.

WESTERLY

After shooting his brother, Edgar, Charles Bailey told his aged mother to dispose of his horse and keep the money.

The animal had been his best days and was of little use, and finally sold to Israel Ribner for $10. Ribner bought the horse on speculation. A customer was found who agreed to pay $40 for the horse provided the animal was satisfactory after a trial. No money passed in this transaction. The horse was not intended to be returned to Ribner. He did not want to take the horse back, and offered it for a lesser price, but the sale could not be completed.

Ribner said there was no agreement that the horse could be returned. So the horse was not satisfied, but was permitted to roam about in the fields and streets of the section of the town where Ribner resides. The horse was exposed to the recent severe storm, was not fed, and his poor condition was made worse by the exposure.

A complaint was made to the police, and Chief Brown reported the case to James N. Smith, agent of the Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. Smith asked Chief to secure the horse from Ribner.

In American Life Passing? Discussion of the subject was opened by Dr. Roy F. Richardson and he was followed by Mrs. Robert H. Fenton. In addition to the addresses of the evening a musical program had been arranged in charge of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Caswell, assisted by their daughter, Miss Lois Caswell. Mr. Caswell and his daughter sang a number of songs, and were followed by an encore. These Sunday evening forums are attended by large numbers and have already become a part of the church program.

Although weather conditions have caused Willimantic people to light up fires the members of Engine Company No. 1 have not been called out for chimney work. During the week of last week the members of the company were called out for chimney work. The record for last week was that of which six were for chimney fires. This year's record is less than half that number.

L. P. O'Brien, of Brick Top, was served notice by Chief Killebrew Sunday afternoon to appear in police court (Monday) morning to answer to charges of violating the pure food laws of the state. A complaint was made out by P. F. Palmer, farmer, charging Mr. O'Brien with watering milk sold the plaintiff. The charge states that one pint of milk was sold Mr. Palmer supposedly of good quality but the milk sold was not in accordance with the law.

The dance at the state armory Saturday night held under the auspices of Company G, Third Infantry, C. S. G., was well attended. Dancing lasted until midnight.

At the November church night of the First Congregational church Thursday evening of this week a varied program has been arranged. Mr. Arnold, who attended the State Sunday School convention held recently in New Haven is to tell about what plans were advanced during the session. He will also talk of the outstanding current events of the religious world. He will be given by Rev. Harry S. McFarland, the pastor. The program is also to include a play. The play being directed by Mr. William A. Buck. Solos by Charles Jordan, accompanied by Miss Wilson will complete the evening entertainment.

Reports from team captains in the Red Cross drive are to be handed in to Chairman Michael E. Sullivan during the current week. The first report received was from the American Thread company team, captained by Charles W. Hill, the subscriptions at that plant totalling $100. Other captains also have large sums to report and it is expected that the total raised will exceed the quota of 2500 members set for this district.

Mrs. Ralph Colvin, of Andover, who sustained a compound fracture of the skull, when she was thrown from the team in which she and her husband were riding, Thursday night in Andover, remains in St. Joseph's hospital in this city. Her condition Sunday night was reported as slightly improved.

Kyret Cobb, John Murphy and David Robinson, one first named the driver of the truck that struck the team driven by Mr. Colvin, appeared before Justice of the Peace William C. Oliver of Clark's corner late Friday afternoon on charges of intoxication. Cobb had an additional charge of reckless driving against him. All three were found guilty, Murphy and Robinson on the charge of intoxication and Cobb on the charge of reckless driving. The charge of intoxication being given to Cobb. Murphy and Robinson were fined ten dollars and costs which they paid, and Cobb was sentenced to thirty days in jail on the reckless driving charge. He was taken to Brookfield Jail by Sheriff John H. Pitts, who made the arrests. Eleven witnesses testified at the hearing and all told of the wreckage of the auto-truck and wagon. They had heard the three men singing and shouting and agreed that the auto truck was being driven at a fast clip. Cobb, if Mrs. Colvin's injuries prove fatal, faces a serious charge and in giving the jail sentence to Cobb, Justice Oliver explained it was but a technicality, the purpose being to hold Cobb pending the outcome of the injuries to Mrs. Colvin.

Doctor Tells How to Strengthen Eyesight

By the simple use of Bon-Opto, says Dr. Lewis, you can have your eyesight strengthened 50% in a week's time. Many instances, and quick relief brought to inflamed, aching, itching, burning, work-strained, watery eyes. Read the doctor's full statement soon to appear in this paper. Bon-Opto is sold and recommended everywhere by Druggists.

and place it in a stable for proper care. Agent Smith came to Westerly and examined the emaciated horse. He then visited Ribner, who signed the usual release, giving permission to have the horse killed as a humane act. The horse was disposed of in the usual way, but the worst was yet to come.

Ribner secured an attorney, Attorney Roche, who advised that the horse be not received by him, as it had been virtually passed from his ownership. The case was then brought before the court. A man sought counsel of Attorney Peterson, who advised the delivery of the horse to and in the presence of witnesses, and this was done.

The signing of the release of the horse to Agent Smith indicates that he was the owner, it being so stated on the blank signed by Ribner. The ownership having been determined, Agent Smith decided to prosecute Ribner for alleged cruelty to the horse.

Ribner was arrested Saturday afternoon and was given a hearing before W. Walter Flynn, clerk of the Third District court. He was charged with cruelty to a horse, in neglecting to provide food for same, and protection from the severe weather from November 22 to 24, inclusive. By advice of his counsel, Attorney Clarence E. Roche, Ribner pleaded not guilty.

By agreement between Attorney Roche and Agent Smith, the case was postponed to the regular session of the Third District court Friday, December 10, at 9 a. m. A bond of $500 was furnished with David Ribner security.

A man and woman from Jewett City parents of a seventeen year old wayward girl, were in Westerly, Saturday, and requested Chief Brown to aid them in getting possession of the girl. She had been taken to a lumber camp in North Stonington, Friday, and refused to return home with her parents. The officer in Jewett City advised the parents to call on Police Chief Brown and he would get the girl for them, if anybody could. As the chief's jurisdiction did not extend beyond the town of Westerly, he could give no assistance. He advised the Jewett City pair to take the matter up with Sheriff Casey and he would probably get possession of the girl for them, if they would pay a fine. The father said he was a poor man, had already been at an expense of $15, and could not afford to spend more. He was then advised to communicate with the superintendent of the state police.

Police Chief Brown receives complaints of almost every kind, including family troubles, and many of these he has adjusted to the satisfaction of all concerned. He received a complaint on the afternoon of Wednesday last, from a colored woman called at the home of the chief and informed him that the family dinner was all prepared, was on the table and about to be served when the rain came through a leaky roof and dripped on the table. She wanted the chief to come and see it and fix things up so she could have her dinner. Thanking her, the chief politely informed the woman that she ought to consult a plumber, as the police were not in the habit of repairing houses.

George E. Egger, elected chief one year ago of the Westerly fire department, over the senior assistant chief, Harry D. Coyne, who was acting head of the department, was elected to the post of Chief Samuel G. Cottrill, until the annual meeting of the fire district. Mr. Coyne declares that he was the logical successor to the late chief, and that friends have suggested that he be elected for appointment as chief engineer at the annual meeting of the fire district, to be held next Wednesday evening.

Mr. Coyne says openly that he is a candidate for the place, and is making an effort to secure the place. Egger is not idle. He is busy as ever, and is making a list of the taxpayers of the district, and urging them to attend the annual meeting and to support the election of a new chief of the fire department. Both men have had long experience in the fire department.

The men talk about town that prospects were bright for the establishment of a hospital at an early date, as the richest women in the town had made provision for the establishment of a hospital and had provided a large sum of money for the purpose. All the talk was evidently based on a foamy effort to secure the place. The prospect was not so bright. The men were making public threats and demands. It is alleged, Superintendent Percy W. Hathaway of the Wakefield Mills, took away all the stock so that the mills will be compelled to shut down.

Walter sent trucks belonging to James P. Winward, doing business in Providence as E. P. Winward & Son, and by threats and demands. It is alleged, Superintendent Percy W. Hathaway of the Wakefield Mills, took away all the stock so that the mills will be compelled to shut down.

said to Max: "I am Inspector McElroy of the Providence police department, and we were evidently both on the same job, looking for a stolen car." The other men in the car besides the chauffeur were the owner of the stolen car and his friends. The car held up by Max here the same numbers sent out by the Providence police. It happened to be a dealer's car, with identical numbers, but differed in designating letter, a little omission on the part of Providence. It was learned later that the stolen car had been taken to the Providence police department. Last year the Eastern States Exchange had a two million dollar business in feeds, fertilizers and seeds.

In view of the interest being shown by the farmers all over the county in co-operative buying work, Mr. Selby's address should be of especial interest at this time.

An annual meeting will be held at the Community house in Norwich on Church street. The forenoon session will begin promptly at 10 a. m. Lunch will be served at noon in the Community house at a standard charge by the Ladies' Aid of Lyndy. The afternoon session will begin at 1 p. m.

During the business meeting in the morning reports on Farm Bureau work in the various communities will be given by a number of local people in the community. Mrs. E. H. McCall will tell of the Clothing Project in Goshen, Miss Viola Watson will give the details of the School Lunch in New London, and Mrs. O. D. Fisher will describe the Making of Dress Forms in North Stonington.

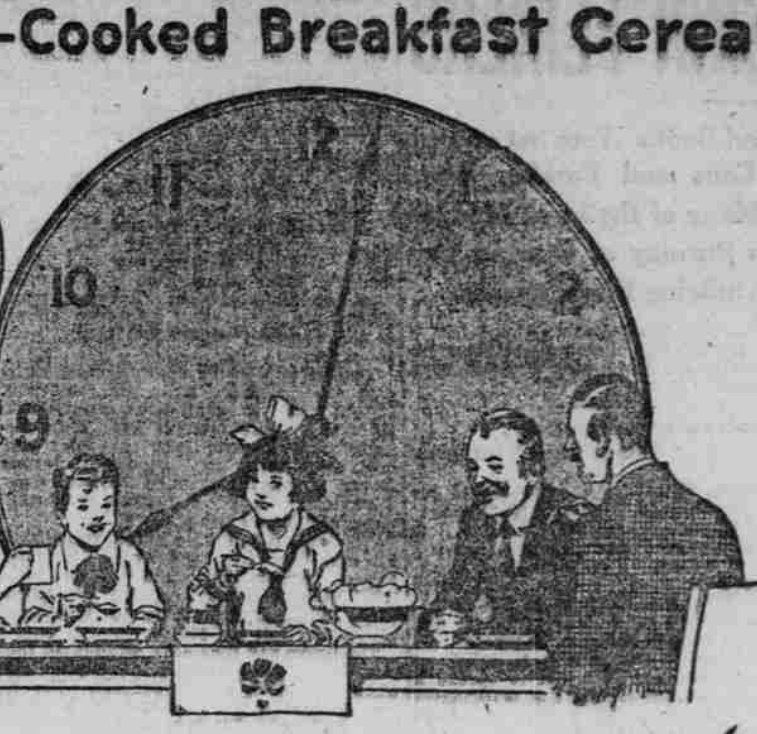

The Home Demonstration Agent Miss Gladys Stratton and County Agent H. F. Johnson will also make their reports at this time. Every man and woman in New London county interested in agricultural and home making projects, will be welcome to attend this meeting.

Today, Tuesday and Wednesday, matinee at 2:15, evening at 7 and 8:30, society life vividly portrayed in the Fall of a Saint. Brilliant restaurants, lively scene balls and the gay "Hot Rouge" of Paris are used as backgrounds for some of the scenes of this very dramatic picture. Its story has a universal appeal, dealing with the love of a strong, right-thinking man for a clever adventuress. He is determined to elevate her—she is bent on winning his love and bringing him down to the level of her other victims. But, when she sees that there is tragedy in their success.

A murder is woven into the dramatic love story, making a picture of absorbing interest.
Added attraction. Defying the Indian Chief, and Gas is the big comedy. Out the free coupon out of the newspapers (together with one from the box office) to the box office will enable yourself and friend to see the best photoplay in Norwich. Come one, bring one. Strands may so, because it's so. Matinee 20 cents; evening 25 and 35 cents.

Davis Theatre
The new William S. Hart picture, "Band," has several touches of comedy relief that are unique and amusing. One wherein the star shows an ear of corn from under the bill of a rooster which is enjoying a midday feast in the roadway. Mr. Hart then proceeds to devour each kernel of corn as it falls while the astonished bird looks vainly for his lost meal and registers complete amazement.
This episode is a hit in the new Paramount Artcraft film starring Mr. Hart at the Davis.
The story itself deals with the efforts of Dan Karpis, played by Mr. Hart, to "stand" his own business of certain robberies at Concord, the town where he was a juvenile station agent. It also develops his love for Margaret Young, played by Miss Gladys Stratton. Mr. Hart and in the end he thwarts the villain, wins and star and rescues his lost Pinto pony.

Albee Brady the Real Art. Film star, who has been in the picture "The New York Idea," a story of modern society life; also the popular Paramount Magazine.

THE QUESTION BOX ON

THE PUBLIC HEALTH NURSE

What is a public health nurse?
She is a graduate nurse.
She is a registered nurse.
She has had special post-graduate training in public health nursing.
She knows the best modern ways to do bedside nursing.
She has been taught the most recent scientific ways to prevent disease.
Does she stay in the sick person's home?
No.
She makes nursing visits under the direction of a doctor, goes into the home, does whatever bedside nursing the sick person needs, teaches some member of the family what to do for the patient in her absence, and then returns to the hospital.
If the patient is very sick, she makes more than one visit during the day.
What do the public health nurses of the United States do?
They nurse sick men, women, children and babies and visit well babies in their homes throughout Norwich.
They draw nursing maps of houses, and do all kinds of public health nursing.
They give nursing care to expectant mothers.
And last, but not least: They help mothers to keep their families well and to prevent disease.
How can they prevent disease?
By recognizing early the signs and symptoms of disease, and by pointing out to some member of the family the physical conditions which keep a person ailing or liable to contract disease.
By teaching certain simple laws of health.
Do all the United Workers' nurses wear uniforms?
Yes; gray with small white letters. P. H. N. on the sleeve, and a dark hat and coat.
Do they always carry a bag?
Always! In her bag the visiting nurse carries everything that she will need to nurse a sick person.
When a visiting nurse enters a house in answer to a call, she takes off her hat and coat, opens her bag, puts on her clean white apron, and then she gives the patient a nursing visit, and to do this in such a way as to safeguard the health of the whole member of the family.
Can anybody call the Public Health Nurse?
Yes.
If I or some other member of my family is sick, will she come to me for a nursing visit?
Certainly she will.
She will go to your neighbor.
Any doctor can call her for any patient of his.
The Public Health Nurse is for the benefit of the entire community.
She will go to any person in the community who needs her and who calls her.
The calls are taken down at her home.
The nurse goes to the sick person's first.
What does a nursing visit cost?
Every nurse in the county is a visit.
Those who cannot pay the full cost of a nursing visit pay less or nothing at all.
The nurse collects the fee.
How can I get a Public Health Nurse?
I need her.
Your doctor may summon the nurse or you may call the United Workers' Home on the telephone number 573, or go to the Public Health Nurse's office, 40 Franklin Street, and ask for a nurse.
Nursing visits will be made between the hours of 9 a. m. and 5 p. m.
Except in case of great emergency, calls which come in during the late afternoon cannot receive attention until the following morning.
